FOUR-YEAR-OLD BOY MISSING FROM HIS HOME IN SUFFOLK STREET

Parents of Little James Abraham Fear He Has Been Drowned or Kidnapped—Has Not Been Seen Since Early Afternoon Yesterday—City-wide Search by the Police

Does the body of four-year-old James Abraham lie at the bottom of the Suffolk street canal as his grief-stricken parents today suspect? That is the question that has led the police to institute a city-wide search for this bright-eyed, sunny-faced youngster who disappeared yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock.

This noon the father of the child came to the police station and asked if there was some manner in which the canal could be dragged for the body. He was told that all efforts would be made to assist in finding the boy but that dragging the canal at this time would be a task productive of no result. By the end of the week the water will be drawn from the canal and search will then be made if the child is not found in the meantime.

It is known that there are several gypies in the city at the present time. One theory advanced was that the boy has been kidnapped and has been either taken from the city or is being kept in hiding. Not much credence is being placed in this theory by the police, although they admit the possibility of such. The police are a bit skeptical as to the drowning theory, inasmuch as the boy had been away from home but a short while before his absence was discovered.

It is thought possible that he may have been found and is being taken

SCANT PROBABILITY OF FRENCH CANDIDATES FOR MAYOR

Dr. Pierre Brunelle and Joseph A. Legare Both Definitely Announce They Will Not Seek the Office—New Faces Show in Fight for Councilor-at-Large and Ward Lists Continue to Grow—Few Aspirants for School Committee

Dr. Pierre Brunelle, senior member of the board of health and mentioned as a potential majority candidate under Plan B, definitely announced this noon he will not seek the office.

This announcement minimizes the probability of the entrance of any French speaking candidate into the fight for mayor, for the only other man under consideration by a committee of 15 appointed last Sunday, Joseph A. Legare, also has declined.

Nomination papers for councilor-at-large were taken out today and late yesterday by the following men: Joseph M. Reilly, 201 Pleasant street; Joseph C. Clark, 84 Andover street; Frank E. McLean, 15 Osgood street; and James J. Gallagher, 168 Chamberland road, a member of the present council.

Of these four, excluding Mr. Gallagher, perhaps Mr. Reilly is best known. By occupation a compositor, at present he is connected with The SANTIAGO, Nov. 14. (By the Associated Press) Reports of banditry and disorder in the earthquake district, together with news of additional earth shocks and indications that the calamity has reached appalling proportions, caused the Chilean government today to consider the advisability of sending troops to Coquimbo and Atacama, to reinforce the regular garrisons, which are too small to cope with the situation and aid in relief work.

BILLERICA MAN SEEKS TO HAVE HIS MOTHER'S WILL DECLARED ILLEGAL

Case on Trial at Civil Session of the Superior Court With Juries—Will Contains Many Stipulations That Are Out of the Ordinary

Claiming undue influence and fraud, Edward W. Barker, a resident of Billerica, has petitioned the superior court with juries to declare illegal the will of his mother, Caroline E. Barker, for which he is executor.

Edward W. Barker, who died in December, 1921. The petitioner claims that his mother was 78 years of age when she drew her will and that the said will was executed only a couple of days prior to her death. The court is being asked to determine whether or not the said will was executed with the understanding and purpose that it should be the last will and testament of deceased and the jury will be called upon to answer that question.

The case went to trial this noon at the civil session of the superior court with juries, Justice Cox presiding, and at the opening of the case, the will, which is rather an odd instrument, was read. The petitioner is left the sum of $200, while the remainder of the estate is bequeathed to a brother, George H. Barker, providing he secures a divorce from his wife.

A copy of the will follows:

I will and bequeath to my son, Edward W. Barker of Billerica, the sum of $200.

I will and bequeath all the income from my estate to my son, George H. Barker of Billerica.

I direct that my real estate shall remain in the name of the estate and if my son, George H. Barker, shall obtain a divorce from his wife, Leona O'Neil Barker, or Leona O'Neil Barker should die, then the balance of all my real estate and personal property shall immediately be turned over to my said son, George H. Barker. If my son, George H. Barker, should die without obtaining a divorce, I direct that all my real estate and personal property shall be turned over to my grandson, Albert C. Barker of Lowell.

I do hereby nominate and appoint my son, George H. Barker of Billerica, the executor of this, my last will, and I direct that he be exempt from going surety of his bond.

VISITORS AT THE LOWELL LODGE GAINS 16 VOTES

With 19 Precincts Recounted Senator Has Lead—Will Complete Count Today

With six complete wards and two precincts of ward 7 out of the way, the recount of the Lodge-Gaston vote of last Tuesday has resulted in a net gain of 16 votes for the senator.

With 19 precincts recounted the candidates were on even terms, but in precinct 2 of ward 7, Lodge gained 15 votes while Gaston was losing six, thus putting the former into the lead by 15 votes. The recount will be completed this afternoon.

The recounting of 16 precincts yesterday resulted in a net gain of one vote for Col. Gaston. The biggest change found from the original count was in ward 3, where Lodge lost 12 votes and Gaston gained 19, but net gains by Lodge in other wards all but balanced this discrepancy.

MUCH UNCERTAINTY SURROUNDS LAUSANNE PEACE CONFERENCE

Decision of Ismet Pasha to Leave for Paris for Talk With Premier Poincare and Possibly British Officials Has Again Thrown Conference Into Atmosphere of Deep Uncertainty

LAUSANNE, Nov. 14. (By the Associated Press).—The decision of Ismet Pasha to leave for Paris tonight for a talk with Premier Poincare and possibly with representatives of the British foreign office has again thrown the Lausanne peace conference into the atmosphere of deep uncertainty which has been partially dispelled by Ismet's arrival at the head of the Angora delegation.

Ismet is going to the French capital on an invitation from Premier Poincare, brought here last night by Turkish nationalist representative in Paris, who will accompany him on the return journey. Ismet will probably take with him two members of his delegation.

French, Turkish and Japanese delegates have taken all the rooms at the Palace Hotel. Presence of the French and Turks at the same hotel is already causing much comment and general discussion as to what agreements, if any, Mr. Franklin-Rouillon made with the Angora government when he negotiated a separate treaty with Mustafa Kemal Pasha.

WIDE DIVERGENCE IN IRISH REPORTS

Free Staters Claim to Be Winning and Gradually
Restoring Order

De Valera's Forces Record
Severe Losses to Opponents—Free State Beaten

DUBLIN, Nov. 14. (By the Associated Press.)—The current increase of activity of armed forces opposing the Irish government is attributed to reunion of the political and military wings of republicanism. This, among other things, resulted in the reappointment of Eamon de Valera as president of the Irish republic with a council of state claiming sole legitimate authority in Ireland.

There is a wide divergence between the accounts published by the government of its successes against the irregulars and those put out by De Valera's forces. The latter record severe losses and claim to be gradually restoring order. The Free State is already beaten. These assertions are made partly in propaganda sold upon the streets and partly through large inscriptions painted nightly all over Dublin in lamp-posts, billboards and bridges. The civil guard and the metropolitan police pace up and down all the thoroughfares but they seem unable to check these manifestations of Ireland's internal dissension.

Every day government agents go about and smear paint solidly over the inscriptions, but the next morning they appear again. The intensification of activity by the irregulars is supposed to be partially aimed at the British political crisis with the design of bringing home to the British the thought that the Irish question remains unsettled despite the treaty. When the new British parliament assembles and the constitution of the Free State is submitted for ratification it is anticipated that the activities of the irregulars will be further intensified.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MRS. ANNA DONOGHUE

The sudden death of Mrs. Anna Donoghue, widow of Michael Donoghue, which occurred yesterday at her home, 41 Oak street, will cause sincere regret throughout the city and to her wide circle of friends, especially in St. Peter's parish where she had resided for 43 years. Mrs. Donoghue was born in Ireland and came to this country while a young girl. She had made her home in this city for 43 years, during all but five years of which she resided in St. Peter's parish. Only a short while ago she removed with her family (41 Oak street) in the immaculate condition house, to St. Peter's parish, where she had been identified with the various church activities as well as being a member of several of the societies.

Despite her long absence from her native land, Mrs. Donoghue retained an active interest in Irish affairs and followed the recent developments in that country with more than passing attention. She was a familiar figure in all the church functions of her parish and she also found time to attend to the duties of her home with unfailing devotion. She was the mother of a large family that is well known throughout the city and in whom she took great pride.

Mrs. Donoghue leaves five sons, Thomas H. Donoghue of the Courier-Citizen job printing department; John J. Donoghue of the Lowell Sun composing room; Francis L. Donoghue at the local postoffice; Joseph M. of the high school faculty; and Richard D. Donoghue, deputy internal revenue collector; four daughters, Mrs. Thomas P. Quinn, Mrs. John P. McNulty, Miss Elizabeth M. Donoghue, of the registry of deeds office, and Miss Mary R. Donoghue; also one sister, Mrs. John Ryan, one brother, Dennis O'Donoghue, and eight grandchildren.

Mrs. Donoghue possessed all the beautiful traits of the old-fashioned Irish woman with love, sympathy and unselfishness forever present.

She was wrapped up in the welfare of her own splendid family, she found time to lend a helping hand to others, including many who were utter strangers to her. Her altruism knew no bounds and a great and generous woman has gone to her reward. The friends of her family, who she helped, as well as those of her immediate family, are sorely grieved and the sympathy of the entire city goes out to every member of her devoted family in the hour of their bereavement.

Her family knew the secret of beautiful living and they can console themselves with the assurance that they shall some day see her in the brighter, happier world above.

DEATHS

She was also a member of the Y.M.C.A. muck club. Besides her husband, she leaves two daughters, Gertrude D. and Julia H. Fletcher.

KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLES CONQUERED OR MONEY BACK

For 40 years, said Dr. Carey, I have been prescribing my prescription No. 777 (known for years as "Dr. Carey's") for kidney and bladder sickness and now that I have retired from active practice I have made arrangements with leading druggists to dispense this wonderful prescription at a moderate price, on the money-back-if-dissatisfied plan.

Beware of kidney disease—thousands die of it every year who ought to be enjoying the blessings of life and health. Watch the symptoms. ELECTIONS IN GREAT BRITAIN TOMORROW

LONDON, Nov. 14. (By the Associated Press.)—The last day in Great Britain's election campaign will be spoken tonight. The electorate will go to the polls tomorrow and pick a parliament from the 1385 candidates seeking seats in the house of commons.

In 313 constituencies the fight will be a duel between candidates of two parties. In 242 other constituencies the battle is complicated by the presence of three or more contestants. Even the wisest political seers are uncertain as to what the general result will be. Some newspapers publish estimates of how the various parties will rank when the voters have had their say, but none of the forecasters express great confidence in their own claims. To the unbiased on-looker, none has much value, as every calculation is tinged with the political views of the man making the estimate.

During the campaign, events have led to a revision of some of the more sanguine estimates. This was notably the case in Glasgow and western Scotland where the united front presented by the unionists and Lloyd George Liberals originally induced considerable complacency. But now, a Glasgow despatch to the Times says, the greatest concern is felt over seats which were regarded as the great prize for the unionists. It is the experience of canvassers throughout the country that women are taking more practical interest in the elections than ever before, although their interest was frequently considerable even before they had the right to cast ballots.

Hospital and Home for Aged

40 patients when the changes have been completed.

In the rear of the building is a large brick garage, but this will be torn down and some of the material will be used in the erection of a new building which will extend along Fanning street, driveway between the building and the property of the French-American orphanage.

The building was erected several years ago by a Mr. Mack, father-in-law of Judge Lawton, who acquired it several years. Later Judge Lawton purchased it and some 11 years ago he sold it to the late Joseph Martin. A few months ago when Mr. Martin expressed a desire to sell the property, the Children's Fathers of St. Joseph's parish secured an option on it and after obtaining permission from the city, purchased it with the intention of converting it into a hospital and home for the aged.

The building is desirably located for a hospital. There is plenty of land in the rear for the accommodation of the patients. As soon as work is started it will be rushed along and it is expected that early in the spring Lowell will have another up-to-date hospital.

Pittsburgh Standing by and Able to Handle Situation,
Says Latest Message

BOSTON, Nov. 14.—The Italian steamer Monte Grappa, which sent out calls for assistance from mid-ocean early today, was in need of no further aid after the White Star liner Pittsburgh had responded to the call, according to radio messages received here. The Monte Grappa, which left Montreal on Nov. 4 for Venice, gave her position as latitude 43.12 north, longitude 41.55 west, or about 1000 miles east of Halifax, N. S.

The Pittsburgh, bound from New York for Bremen, changed her course on picking up the calls and sent word later that she was standing by the Italian steamer and was able to handle the situation. The early messages said the Monte Grappa was listing to port in heavy seas.

The Italian steamer registers 4661 tons and is in command of Captain Bartoli. Captain James commands the Pittsburgh.

Uncertainty Surrounds Peace Conference

ing the British viewpoint on certain points have led to a near East peace negotiations. Meanwhile French foreign officials say they are at a loss to point out any details concerning the Near East peace in which there is divergence between the London and Paris cabinets.

A British desire to remain permanently at Chank is suggested in political circles, but officials here refuse to express any opinion on that point. Tamek Hadia, head of the Turkish nationalists peace delegation who left Lausanne this morning for Paris, will have a talk with Premier Poincare tomorrow. It is understood at the Quai d'Orsay that the Turkish representative is making the trip here so as to be reassured regarding the allied intentions respecting Turkey.

Lord Hardinge informed Premier Poincare that Lord Curzon desired an exchange of views by cable between London and Paris before the meeting projected for Saturday, but it is thought here that this exchange will require only two or three days.

If the developments of the conference in Paris make it appear advisable, it was said today, Lord Curzon and Premier Poincare, together with Marquis de la Ferté, Italian ambassador at London, will all three proceed to Lausanne Saturday night or Sunday.

French Consuls Expelled CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 11.—The French consuls at Messina and Adana in Asia Minor have been expelled by the Kemalists. They arrived here Monday. They were appointed under the British pier to insure protection of Christian minorities.

The French consul at Bursa was expelled a week ago, but another consular official is returning to that city accompanied by a Turkish Nationalist officer to inspect the arrival of 30 French residents.

A number of leading French merchants in Constantinople met at the French embassy Sunday and drafted a strong memorial to their government declaring that French economic interests are threatened with ruin if the Turks are allowed to continue their present policy unchecked.

From Kharpout come reports that the Kemalists are calling all men liable to military service and sending them to Mosul.

Belgium To Be Represented RUSSELL, Nov. 14.—(By the As-

F. H. HITCHCOCK SUED

Former Postmaster General
Named in $3000 Suit
Brought by Col. Smith

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Frank H. Hitchcock, former postmaster general and veteran republican national campaign manager, has been named defendant in a suit for $3000 damages brought by Col. Frank Wilbur Smith in connection with Hitchcock's recent interest in floating $100,000 worth of Romanian government bonds. It was learned today, Hitchcock's account with the Empire Trust company, was attached on order of Supreme Court Justice March after Smith's complaint said that Hitchcock was in New Mexico and could not be served personally. Smith, it was stated, was associated with Hitchcock in the Romanian bond matter. The disagreement is believed to have developed over Smith's share in the profits.

CONTINUE PROBE OF MURDER OF BROTHERS

ORFORD, N. H., Nov. 14.—Investigation of the murder of John and Charles Davis, brothers, whose bodies were found Sunday night in the small house they occupied on the outskirts of this village, has revealed that they were last seen alive on the afternoon of Wednesday, Nov. 8.

Sheriff Claude Murray of Canaan said today that he had learned the brothers were in the village Wednesday afternoon and that they were accompanied by two strange young men, one of whom wore goggles.

Information advanced by the probable time of the deaths twenty-four hours as lacking later trace of them, it was at first believed they were killed on Tuesday night when an automobile was noticed standing in front of their home.

The autopsy completed yesterday showed that the aged men were attacked with an axe and their heads crushed. The theory of the county officers is that robbery was the motive. Neighbors said they understood the brothers had hoarded from $1200 to $1500, representing the savings of their entire lives.

SUPERIOR COURT VERDICTS

A verdict in the sum of $250 was awarded to Wilfred J. Lee in his suit against the Concord Hotel Co. at the superior court with Justice this afternoon on the case of Jean vs. Wylie. The jury found for the plaintiff. The verdict was rendered for the defendant. This was a double action of tort brought by Mr. Jean to recover damages to the elevator in his building in Market street, which he claimed were caused through the negligence of the defendants in the process of removing machinery.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—At the recommendation of Chairman Lasker of the Shipping board, Chairman Madden of the house appropriations committee, has agreed to introduce a bill placing a time limitation on the right to file claims against the board's Emergency Fleet corporation. A draft of the proposed legislation submitted by Mr. Lasker would fix a limitation of the right of file passage of the act. Thwarted—Depth Bombs

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 14.—Federal prohibition enforcement agents, exploding bombs of dynamite in Puget Sound here, have thwarted a potential attempt to recover from the water a quantity of liquor which was dumped overboard in the pursuit of a smuggler's launch recently. The agents lowered the charges at the spot where the bottles were seen to sink. They said they were confident they had destroyed the illicit consignment.

I decided to try Wincarnis and it certainly benefited me. I never took anything in my life I got so much good from. It is certainly very strengthening.

I shall always be glad to praise the merits of Wincarnis and if anyone wishes to write me personally I will be glad to answer all questions regarding what it has done for me."

ances between mill officials and owners. Lowell and the mills affected by the strike in an endeavor to bring the labor struggle to an end. The result of his visit was never made public, but shortly afterward the wage cut was restored in all the local cotton mills.

When the commissioner came to Lowell this morning at the request of the strikers is not known, but as soon as he arrived he went directly to the office of the Massachusetts mills and held a lengthy conference with Agent Mitchell. Later he went to strike headquarters in Central street and informed John Hanley, chairman of the strike, to get 100 weavers in line at once and send them to the Massachusetts mills, where employment would be given them.

To a San reporter Commissioner McWade said business is improving considerably at the Massachusetts mills and according to information he received this morning it will be but a short time before that mill is running full blast. He stated that his conference with Mr. Mitchell was of a most pleasing nature and he later assured him that there will be no discrimination against any of the former employees of the plant and that as far as conditions warrant it they will all be reinstated in their former positions. Speaking about other textile centers, Mr. McWade said there are signs of better business everywhere. I have visited several textile centers during the past few weeks," he continued, "and I find that everywhere business is booming. There is considerable production going on and the merchants report extraordinary good business. I find that the boom is not only in the line of goods that are of great necessity, but also in luxuries, for people are buying freely and of course large and heavy sales mean more production."

Mr. McWade also went to the Hamilton Mfg. Co. this morning, but he was unable to confer with Agent Mitchell, who is in Boston. He has made arrangements to meet Supt. Lalline of the plant this afternoon.

A meeting of the strategy board of the New England textile strike centers will be held at Dover, N. H., tomorrow morning and the Lowell delegates who will attend the meeting are John Hanley, Mrs. Annie Reagan and Frank Stimpson.

Famous Old Recipe
for Cough Syrup

Really and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations by using the well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex from any drugstore, pour it into a pint bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and hoarseness disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes. Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. PARDON BOARD URGED
TO FREE SLAYER

HOUSE, Idaho, Nov. 14.—On the contention that his confession and turning state's evidence extenuated his crime and that he rendered the state a service at the trials of his alleged superiors, an array of prominent Idahoans urged the pardon board yesterday to free Harry Orchard, confessed slayer of Frank Steuneger, former governor of Idaho, in 1905. The application was taken under advisement until November 27.

The opinion is expressed in official quarters that in view of the embassy of the tension the allied representatives at Constantinople have decided it is unnecessary for the press to proclaim a state of siege.

A news agency despatch from Constantinople dated Monday, said the allies had handed Rodosto over to the nationalists, and that the official handing over of Adrianople would occur Nov. 19.

WAS A BROKEN-DOWN WOMAN

Then I Began Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Medicines

Donaldsonville, La.—"I write with pleasure to praise your medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—which has done so much to restore my health. I was a broken-down woman until my husband brought me a bottle of your Vegetable Compound and one of Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine. I had been having pains every month and at intervals between, was weak and seemed to be smothering at times, but in a week I felt like another woman. I also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. It did me a lot of good too. I cannot praise your medicines too much and will be more than glad to recommend them to any woman who is suffering from female troubles. You may print my testimonial, as it is true."

Mrs. F. A. LANDRY, 612 Miss. St., Donaldsonville, La.

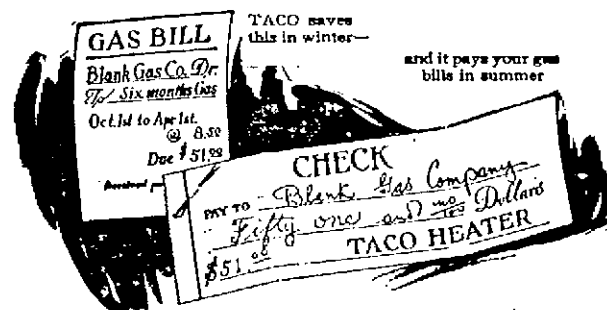

Note Mrs. Landry's words—"as it is true." Every letter recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is genuine. It is a statement telling the merits of these medicines just as the women in your own neighborhood tell each other about them. For fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has sold on merit.

With an average of $8.50 per month, TACO can save you over $50 this winter—enough to pay for your gas heater bills all next summer.

If $50 each year is worth saving, telephone your nearest Plumber or Heating Contractor today for an estimate on TACO completely attached to your heating plant.

DEALERS: If you haven't TACO in stock, your jobber or the nearest branch office of the leading heater and radiator manufacturers, can supply you.

ON TRIAL ON CHARGES OF HIGH TREASON

ATHENS, Nov. 14.—The ex-ministers and generals charged with high treason as a result of the Greek military disaster in Asia Minor are now on trial. The defending lawyers, at the opening session Monday, contended that the court was incompetent and that the accused men ought to be tried by parliament.

Former Premier Gounaris and Stratos delivered long speeches expressing the same view as their lawyers.

A young officer in the audience interrupted Gounaris. He was immediately arrested and sentenced to jail for 15 days. After listening to the arguments the court rejected the plea that it was incompetent.

GIANT CANNON-CARRYING AIRPLANE COMPLETED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Completion of a giant cannon-carrying airplane for night bombardment—designed by the first airplane constructed for artillery material—was reported to the commerce department today by Vice Consul Harold D. Finley, at Havre. The machine is equipped with a 75 millimetre gun, one of the 75's of world war fame, at the Chalon-Sur-Saône works for the French air ministry.

The plane is made entirely of metal and is propelled by four motors of 400 horse power each. The plane will fly at a speed of 150 kilometres an hour. The machine is to be put through a series of tests by the engineers of the air ministry.

TO PUBLISH TEXT OF GERMAN NOTE

BERLIN, Nov. 14.—The text of the German government's note to the reparations commission and the willingness of the Reichsbank to participate in a loan of several hundred million gold marks to stabilize Germany's currency, is expected to be published today.

Another feature of the note is a request for a three or four year moratorium.

According to the newspapers, the note also includes the demand for a definite settlement of the reparations question. In return for these accommodations which include a loan from abroad equal to the sum put up by the Reichsbank, Germany would undertake to increase production by prolonging working hours, and to effect savings in administration by reducing the number of officials, the newspaper accounts of the government note report. An internal loan also would be issued, it is said.

TO REGULATE RAILROAD SERVICE

DETROIT, Nov. 14.—Plans for cooperation between the interstate commerce commission and state railroad commissions in regulating railroad service have been carried sufficiently far to insure their ultimate success, Chairman McChord of the federal body declared today in an address before the national convention of Railway and Public Utilities Commissioners. The joint exercise of state and national authority with elimination of conflicts between them, he said, would put the transportation utilities of the country to their greatest use.

Mr. McChord explained that the method adopted was that of having state commissions associate with the interstate commerce in discussions on matters of mutual interest, and having state commissions issue all necessary orders upon matters affecting service in their own state.

DISCUSS PROGRESS OF "DRY" MOVEMENT

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14.—Progress of the "dry" movement throughout the five continents of the globe again occupied the attention of the world's convention of the Women's Christian Temperance union today. Resolutions were scheduled both today and tonight.

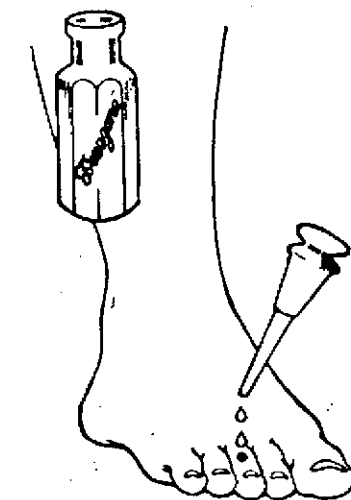

Those in attendance today discussed with interest the assertion made last night by Dr. Alfred Herbert Horstfall that Scotland and New Zealand are next among the lands slated for the dry column.

Among the cables of praise for the W.C.T.U. and its work one was received yesterday from Mrs. Lloyd George.

Morocco formerly was the Roman province of Mauritania, for which the giant lion of that name was called.

ALLEGED POISON PLOT

Matrimonial Agencies and Undertaking Establishments Being Investigated

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Matrimonial agencies and undertaking establishments were fields of investigation today in the alleged poison plot of Mrs. Tillie Klinek and her cousin, Mrs. Nellie Sturmer Konek.

The women were arraigned on murder charges yesterday but the preliminary hearing was postponed 10 days while the police and coroner's office continued investigations.

According to the authorities, there have been 10 mysterious deaths on cases of illness from poison among former husbands, relatives and friends of Mrs. Klinek, while Mrs. Konek is held as a suspect in five alleged poisonings.

THE BAPTIST SOCIAL UNION

The first monthly meeting of the current season was held last night by the Baptist Social Union with the people of the First Baptist church as hosts. More than 200 members and friends were present when supper was served by the Ladies' Benevolent Society.

A business meeting at 7:30 o'clock was followed by an interesting address by Hon. John Jacob Rogers on "America's Changing Obligations," in which he spoke at some length on the Soviet situation and its developments.

Songs by Miss Etta Thompson and John S. Molt were enjoyed, the accompanist being Miss Inez Deale.

A special town meeting will be held in Westford Friday, Nov. 17, to act upon a warrant article calling for the appropriation of $120,000 for a new school house at Forge Village, among numerous other matters due for the voters' consideration and action.

There are articles calling also for a report on the investigation conducted by a special committee relative to entering into a contract with the Lowell Electric Light Corporation for lighting the town streets; to see what the town will do toward providing a memorial to war veterans, and to see what action the town will take toward establishing a "building line" or other restrictions relative to the erection of buildings.

Why the Bonded wrapper?

The answer to above question will appear in this space tomorrow.

Yesterday's Question: Why bake in brick ovens?

The Answer: In home kitchens, the heavy iron range bakes better than a sheet-iron oven, because it keeps the heat more even—more steady. But there is one oven better than cast-iron, and that is a brick oven. Yes—Bond Bread is baked in brick ovens, with walls thicker than the foundation of a house. In such ovens, the heat stays steady. That is why Bond Bread is so uniformly well-baked.

THE DIPLOMATIC SERVICE

Once again the gentlemen who hold the reins in Washington announce that plans are under way for "improving the diplomatic service." While there has been no definite outline of the president's recommendations, the proposed reorganization may be far-reaching, if indications mean anything.

We believe that Mr. Hughes has already stated to Congressmen Rogers, who is leading the way to a better foreign service, intimating that post-war conditions have rendered a general betterment of the present organization imperative. It is true, of course, that failure to provide for reorganization along constructive lines would be tantamount to retrogression.

It is understood that the revised "Rogers bill" prepared at the department of state and submitted to President Harding, was the proposed Secretary Hughes' endorsed. He has described it as representing no important departure from the principal features of the original Rogers bill, which was enumerated as follows:

Classification of ministers; amalgamation of the diplomatic and consular services into a single foreign service on an interchangeable basis; representation allowances; substitution of a corps of foreign service pupils for the present corps of consular assistants; a retirement system.

Answering a letter from Julius K. Barnes, president of the chamber of commerce of the United States, Mr. Hughes expressed pleasure that the chamber planned to work in support of the foreign service reorganization scheme, and declared that the ultimate cost of an inadequate foreign service is so much greater than that of an adequate one, that the slight additional expenditures which would be required to raise the standard of our present organization is insignificant in comparison with the benefits that would accrue.

TURKISH ARROGANCE

Turkey is becoming so arrogant that it is almost hopeless to expect a settlement between her and the allies without an armed conflict. The Kemalists intend to submit to the Lausanne conference a demand for possession of Western Thrace that will be in the nature of an ultimatum.

The Turks, intoxicated with their victory over Greece, want to crush her completely. The handing over to Turkey of Western Thrace would be the first step for Ottoman progress in that direction.

The Balkan states, including Serbia, Rumania and even their enemy, Bulgaria, are laying plans for a closer union with a view to resisting Turkish aggression. The Turks are adopting a defiant attitude. They know that neither England nor France is in a position to go to war with them; and they are bent on expansion by conquest not only in Europe but in Asia, where they demand concessions chiefly in the Mosul region under British control, and a readjustment of the Smyrna boundary at the expense of the French.

Unless complete agreement is reached by the allies on the Turkish question, Turkey is likely to precipitate a war at some point, as apparently she is anxious to take advantage of the unpreparedness of the allies. Unless England and France stand together against Turkey she may embroil the greater part of the continent in another war. In a jeopardy, she would call in the aid of Russia against the allies and especially to crush Greece, which is one of her chief aims.

Some of the political prophets are speculating upon the possibility of Vice-President Coolidge running for senator in 1924. If there was such a demand for Mr. Coolidge as a presidential candidate in 1920, why should he not give his party a chance to show its regard for him as candidate for the highest office.

LOST THEIR VOTES

With the experience of the state election in mind, it is in order for the city authorities to provide sufficient accommodation for those who wish to vote at the municipal elections. It will be remembered that during the early morning and noon hour on election day, there was a rush at the polls that could not be accommodated by the arrangements in the polling booths. As a result a great many voters had to leave without voting and it is doubtful if they returned. It seems beyond question that many citizens were thus deprived of the opportunity to vote. This is something in the nature of an outrage that should not be tolerated.

We presume it is within the province of the election board to order the necessary changes made so that there will be a sufficient number of voting stalls in each polling booth. It is understood that the usual number is one for every seventy-five voters in the precinct, but in some polling places where there were over 1100 voters there were only six or less than half the number needed. This is a matter that should be attended to at once. The cost would be trifling, as it would require only the construction of a sufficient number of boxes in which voters can mark their ballots in secret. Another solution may be found in additional precincts; but this would be an expensive change that cannot be effected in time for the municipal election.

TO SUPPLEMENT PLAN B

When Plan B shall have been put in operation there will arise the problem of what will be done with the public service boards, the budget and auditing committee and the sub-department of school hygiene, all specifically provided for by the present charter.

The two last mentioned can be retained by ordinance, and as for the sub-department of school hygiene under a special director, it can be retained by the board of health under whose control it is at the present time.

These three features of the present charter would supplement the department specially provided for in Plan B. We believe that all three are favorably regarded by the people generally as having brought about certain much needed improvements in their respective lines of service.

The work of the street and water departments combined as they have been with the engineering department has been put upon a more systematic basis. We do not believe that the new city council will want to abolish this board, as it has taken the street and water departments out of politics and put them under expert direction. Thus both are rescued from the ever-changing and inexperienced control provided under the previous charter.

It will rest with the new city council to adopt by ordinance any other new feature of municipal government not provided for under Plan B.

DIVORCE

It is announced that the General Federation of Women's Clubs will advocate a national law regulating marriage and divorce. Such a law is necessary if it would check the divorce evil, which is now fast becoming a national menace. We are not aware as to what plans the women's clubs may have for the regulation of marriage, but we do know that usually it is difficult to control the infatuation of young couples when they conclude to embark upon the sea of matrimony. They care nothing about that old maxim of marrying in haste and repenting at leisure. Those who can see the divorce court always open, are more ready to take a chance than if they regarded the bonds of marriage as indissoluble.

Statistics show that in round figures, there is one divorce out of every nine marriages in the United States. It is necessary to do something practical in order, if possible, to stamp out this evil, which is largely responsible for the breaking up of numerous families and the growing disregard of the marriage tie. We surmise, however, that the Women's club mentioned has no idea of prohibiting divorce. Even to make it more difficult may help a little.

THE IRISH SITUATION

Reports coming from Ireland seem to indicate that conditions are becoming worse as Mr. de Valera has decided to treat the people who believe in the Free State as British spies, and therefore deserving to be shot on sight. It seems somewhat strange that so much of the shooting is on one side in this conflict. The followers of Mr. de Valera are wrecking the country from north to south and from east to west by blowing up bridges and destroying roads, so that it is impossible to travel more than a few miles in any direction without pontoon bridges and sealing ladders. It is estimated that it would cost between $500 and $1,000 to travel from Cork to the Glenties Causeway on account of the manner in which the roads are made impassable. If this business be continued much longer, the inevitable result will be, that England will be back in control and then the people who don't want the question settled will be gratified. Meantime, Ireland and the Irish people are suffering the worst humiliation in their whole history.

CRIMINALS MORE DANGEROUS

William Allan Pinkerton thinks that the crooks of today are not as intelligent as those of the past generations. He believes that today the man who has the ingenuity to be a successful crook, realizes that he can win greater success by following legitimate pursuits and, at the same time, avoid the risk, the disgrace and infamy of a criminal career.

Mr. Pinkerton also finds that the crooks of today are more ready to use pistols and to commit murder than were those of former days. In other words, the criminals of today are of a lower type and more dangerous than those of the past. If pistols and drugs were not so easily obtainable, there would be less danger from criminals.

The attendance at last Sunday's football game at Spaulding park indicates what a keen interest is taken in such contests. If the 6000 or 7000 who attended had to kill one around the city, there is no doubt that many of them would have felt ill at ease and some in seeking amusement elsewhere might have been led into mischief. At the park they enjoyed innocent, healthful and refreshing amusement.

On Armistice day former President Wilson broke his enforced silence in making a brief speech to those who called to congratulate him. He claims that Providence is on his side and of course God and one make a winning majority.

The voters of the city in the coming election should vote for their own interests which lie in a well governed city in which a dollar's worth will be received for every dollar expended.

If the Turks get the chance they will wreak vengeance upon the Greeks in a great massacre. Nothing but the unity and vigilance of the allies can prevent it.

It is amusing with what complacency a distant shouter tells what the citizens had in mind when they voted in favor of Plan B.

We have a second hand city charter almost new for sale at a bargain.

A Thought

Gratitude is the fairest blossom which springs from the soul; and the heart of a man knoweth none more fragrant.—Hosae Ballou.

Some Note, We'll Say

A young man, who has lately received an important appointment, wrote as follows: "I hope my appointment to the curatorship of the museum of antiquities may induce you to trust your daughter to my care!"

The Quiet Lodger

The new lodger was singularly quiet and extremely reticent as to his affairs and promised to give little or no trouble. But at 11 o'clock the night porter, who was waiting for a pandemonium of weird groans, hair-raising shrieks and wails, with intermittent outbursts of frenzied agitation. Then the raucous voice of the lodger was heard up the stairs: "What's the matter now, Mr. Mangin? Whatever are you fussing about? I've thrust his classic features over his hands! Only practicing the violin," he replied, sweetly. "Is that all?" said the mollified woman. "I thought you was a-shifting the bed."

Catch in the Act

A titled English woman, who lived in a block of flats, wanted a day without visitors. She went down in the elevator and told both the porter and the microscopic elevator boy that she was "just at home." In spite of her four o'clock closing hour, the elevator boy took up some visitors who came to her, when the maid opened the door, helping to spring clean the hall. Trouble resulted for both the porter and the boy. "Young varmint thrust from afar," said the porter to his subordinate, "er visitors up an' on 'em catchin' er indisposition, when you say 'er wasn't at home.' 'Yes,' replied the impudent elevator boy, "but what er indisposition says an' what I knows is two different things!"

Not So Thrifty

A certain rich man has a reputation for being thrifty. A furnished flat which he had just had built and the new tenant thought that the paint on one or two walls should be renewed. The owner, on hearing this, said a word to the flat. Finding the job was a small order, he decided to do it himself. The vacating tenant was away from home and the cupboards were locked. However, the landlord completed the task to his satisfaction. His pleasure was considerably diminished when a couple of days later, he received an indignant letter from the tenant stating that the paint had leaked through the cracks in the cupboard and had ruined his dress suit. Enclosed was a bill for $70. The money was paid.

The Ring's Motto

A lover gave the wedding ring into the golden band. "Grave me," he said, "a tender thought Within the golden band." With careful art, the goldsmith gravely "Till death us part."

The wedding bells rang gladly out: The husband said, "O wife, say 'er we'll share the life brief, The happiness of life."

My hand, my heart, Till death us part." "I was that lifted my hand, O love, that this should be! Then on it placed the golden band, And whispered tenderly: 'Till death us join, I, thou art mine, And I am thine."

"And when death joins, we nevermore Shall know an aching heart. The bride of that better love Death has no power to part. 'Till death us join, I, thou art mine, Eternity."

So up the hill and down the hill, Through fifty changing years, They shared each other's happiness, They died each other's tears.

Alas, alas, That death's cold dart Such love can part!

But one sad day—she stood alone Beside his narrow bed; She drew the ring from off her hand, And the goldsmith said:

"O man who grieved With careful art, 'Till death us part."

"Now grave four other words for me—'Till death us join.' He took The precious golden band once more, And wrought with care, For love, not coin, 'Till death us join."

THE CHAMP PASSES

(Britton-Walker Fight)

It took Old Father Time to lick that bird;
Old Father Time that gets 'em all, at last.
But Boy, Jack Britton made a fight that stirred
Yer very soul, an' made yer blood run fast.
He was a champ, was Jack, a game, game guy
Who didn't dodge, but fought 'em, great an' small;
An' now his days of glory have gone by
In one last fight, the finest of 'em all.

Know he was linked, he did; but just the same
He didn't quit, but bravely fought along,
Uhn' his bean an' knowledge of the game,
Stickin' it out until the final gong.
Walker, the kid, was great; but greater still
Was Jack, who knew the odds was all agin him,
An' yet kept on with brains an' nerve an' skill,
Givin' the last lone ounce that he had in him!

Was I a parson, I would take that bout
An' make a sermon of it; I would say,
"A guy should fight to win, but stick it out,
No matter if it goes the other way.
An' if you fight the fight with all yer strength,
Like Britton did, an' keep yer courage whole,
Though Father Time may stretch you out at length,
You still will be the Captain of yer Soul!"

Entertainment was provided for them, too, and there were attractive little favors to keep the memory green. There were songs by Mrs. Marion McKnight Stevenson and stories by Miss Harriet Cooper. The children were charmed and the mothers seemed to enjoy the program equally as well.

Jack Daw at Sea! Chapter 9

It was great fun climbing the hill of pearls. When the little fat man held the rope tight Jack could climb rapidly. Then the rope was let out a bit and Jack would go sprawling among the shiny stones. Flip, too, enjoyed the sport. He barked loudly every time Jack slipped.

Finally the top of the hill was reached and Jack shook hands with the fat man. "I'm the ruler on this island," he told Jack. "And I've always been alone except for the band of jumping Jiminies. They are my enemies." Then he invited Jack to go to his home not far away.

On the way to the little pearl house, they came to a high hill overlooking a deep valley. "Look down there," shouted the fat man. "That's a gathering of the jumping Jiminies." And, sure enough, Jack saw a lot of funny little men playing ball. They seemed a jolly tribe. (Continued.)

THEY SAVED $11,000,000

How Massachusetts Citizens
Have Benefited by Elimination of War Taxes

Following is a statement of Malcolm B. Nichols, U. S. collector of internal revenue, on saving in taxes under the new revenue act:

The people of Massachusetts have been saved the huge total of $11,475,000 during the past year through the operation of the revenue act of 1921, which President Harding signed one year ago. This is an actual saving, that is, it does not depend on such revenue-reducing factors as smaller incomes or less business. It results from the policy of Congress in relieving such burdensome taxes as those on transportation and articles in common use, and in giving increased exemption to taxpayers of moderate income, especially to heads of families with dependents. This eleven and one-half million dollars is a sum comparable to the amount of the Massachusetts state income tax annually on cities and towns, and is analyzed as follows:

Income tax	$2,286,045.33
Transportation tax	$1,300,657.00
Sales and luxury tax	$430,657.00

The number of taxpayers who profit by the income tax saving of two and three-quarters million reaches a total of 330,180. The incomes of this great army of taxpayers do not exceed $5000, and such taxpayers who are entitled to an exemption of $500 in addition to $2000 allowed by the 1913 act. Furthermore, the $200 exemption for each child has been increased to $400, without limit as to the number of dependents. For example, a family with one child and an income not in excess of $5000 were this year saving in taxes an amount of $700, which at the rate of 4 per cent means an actual saving to that family of $28.

Collectors Nichols, who have traveled or have paid freight or have sent an express package or bought a Pullman berth, have saved in taxes about four and one-half million dollars since Jan. 1, 1922. From the buyer of high-grades of wearing apparel on the one hand to the child who plays with the cream come on the other, in fact, every man, woman and child in Massachusetts has received benefit under the revision of the sales taxes, which benefit in the aggregate has resulted in saving almost four and one-half millions more.

Collector Nichols declared that this eleven and one-half million saving will be very greatly increased in the coming year, on account of exceedingly promising business prospects which will greatly increase all incomes and sales.

SAVINGS CERTIFICATES

War Savings Certificates of the 1918 Series Will Mature Jan. 1

Possessors of 1918 war savings certificates will be interested in the following postal bulletin, issued at Washington on November 9: "War savings certificates, series of 1918, will mature January 1, 1923, and will be payable after that date at $5 for each stamp affixed. It is important that owners of certificates desiring prompt payment or exchange at maturity shall be served with the least possible delay and confusion. Registered certificates will be paid or exchanged only through the post office of registration. Unregistered certificates are by their terms payable at maturity at any money order post office or at the treasury department in Washington. The treasury department has a plan by which reserve banks and other banks and trust companies will receive unregistered certificates direct from the owners for redemption. This will relieve post offices of a great volume of redemptions. Nevertheless, the postal service, to meet these maturity payments, faces a task that will call for the most earnest efforts of all postmasters and employees concerned.

2. On or after November 16, 1922, owners may apply to exchange the whole or a part of their 1918 war savings certificates at maturity value for treasury savings certificates to be dated January 1, 1923, with the difference either way to be paid in cash, or they may apply for full cash payment to be made at maturity. After January 15, 1923, treasury savings certificates issued in exchange will be currently dated. Postmasters should urgently request owners of 1918 war savings certificates who desire exchange or payment promptly at maturity to present them for that purpose at the earliest possible date. Copies of an application blank, Form P. D. 750, which also shows clearly the several methods of exchange or payment, will be supplied by this department to the postmasters at all money-order offices and by the treasury department to banks and trust companies. Circulars advertising the plan will also be supplied to postmasters, who are hereby authorized by direction of the postmaster general, to distribute them through city and rural carriers and in postoffice boxes.

FREE STATE PRESIDENT

REPLIES TO A. A. R. I. R.

DUBLIN, Nov. 14.—(By the Associated Press) President Cosgrave, through the Free State publicity department, yesterday issued a statement replying to cablegrams from members of the American Association for Recognition of the Irish Republic. Mr. Cosgrave's statement said:

"Returning last evening with General Mulcahy from a tour of the Dublin hospitals where soldiers of the army of Ireland, wounded and mutilated by the guns and mines of the irregulars are being tended, I found messages from the American Association for Recognition of the Irish Republic awaiting me."

"My mind went back to the scenes of suffering I had just witnessed, bravely and uncomplainingly borne for Ireland, and my thoughts also turned towards the mounds in Glasnevin, where so many more of our soldiers with President Griffith and Michael Collins."

"Those deaths and sufferings and the daily toll of further deaths and sufferings, are in direct consequences of the doings of people who formerly were, and still claim to be political leaders, and on whom the responsibility of asserting their authority, will not allow the discharge of that duty to the nation to be hampered by consideration of any individuals, be they who they may."

A message addressed to Mr. Cosgrave on Nov. 8 by Michael A. Kelly, organization director of the American Association for Recognition of the Irish Republic, protested against the detention in Mountjoy prison, Dublin, of Miss Mary MacSwiney, who is on hunger strike.

"Millions of Americans will hold you responsible for the murder of Mary MacSwiney if she dies," said the message. "Humanity demands her release."

LADY ASTOR HAILED
AS A "PUSSYFOOT"

PLYMOUTH, Eng., Nov. 14.—(By the Associated Press) Feeling is unusually bitter in Viscountess Astor's campaign here. She is having a hard fight to retain her seat and there has been a remarkable display of heat. Personalities and abuse have driven party politics into the background.

One charge which the voters have brought against Lady Astor, and one which counts in this community of workaholics, is her stand on liquor. The favorite epithet of those who oppose her is "Pussyfoot," and her opponents use the word as though it were a crime.

"I am not trying to take away anyone's beer," is Lady Astor's answer. "I want to give the voters freedom to control the drink trade; the brewers plan to take effect in the radio broadcasting field.

This is the belief of official observers here who have watched the number of broadcasting stations in the New York State grow in little over a year to nearly 600, and who now believe the field has about reached its saturation point. Henceforth, they see a gradual decrease in the number of licenses issued to Class A stations until the total will reach its peak and then continue to drop.

Already signs of this drop are seen. Class A stations, the highest grade, are obtaining the approval of the government for finer broadcasting concerts, and little or no encouragement is being given to the organization of new broadcasting stations about the size of the other type have been in this category. These transmit 100-meter wave length and are under the supervision of government agencies so that only the highest entertainments may be broadcast in the most efficient manner possible. The density of the Class A stations may be seen by the fact that the town of Yonkers alone has 70, while 35 of New York 31. Radio fans of Denham may tune in on any one of section within the city. And in the city of New York the situation becomes so complex that a time table has to be followed to fore-ment is given by government authorities to the inauguration of the inferior stations. Few of the latter have so far fallen by the wayside, but many more are expected to go until the country will have a representative group of good broadcasters scattered through all the states.

One fact there were 518 broadcasting stations of the Class A type in the United States. This class is licensed

Department of Commerce believe it will long before the Class A stations will gradually give way to better class B stations. And more strict control is held over superior stations, while license not being issued so readily, will believe the number of broadcast will gradually dwindle down to representative basis.

TURKISH DELEGATION

Not a Single Member of Party

Arriving at Lausanne
Wears a Red Fez

LAUSANNE, Nov. 14 (By the Associated Press).—As a spectacle the Turkish delegation to the peace conference has been a keen disappointment to the people of Lausanne. Not a single member of the delegation wears the red fez. Most of the delegates have even laid aside their astrakhan caps and the so conventionally dressed in derbies and European overcoats and suits that the curious Swiss are unable to distinguish the Turks from other guests at the palace hotel.

The only oriental touch about the Turkish party today was provided by several Turkish newspapermen attending the conference. They still wear British frocks. Several of the Turkish delegates are red-haired and so unlike the average Turk that curious observers never suspect them of being with the Ankara delegation. Dr. Riza Nur Bey, the second member of the delegation and a well known physician, has light hair and blue eyes.

Jamiet Pasha, the Turkish national foreign minister, stated positively in a conversation with the Associated Press correspondent that the entire delegation is recognizing the Ankara delegation as the sole representatives of Turkish interests. The allies will not receive any delegation from the sultan or his Constantinople government should such a group come to Lausanne.

EXPECTS BONUS BILL TO BE ENACTED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Confidence that a soldiers' bonus bill would be enacted by the congress which comes into existence after March 4, was expressed today by John Thomas Taylor, legislative representative of the American Legion. In a statement which declared the election demonstrated that the sentiment of the country was behind compensation legislation.

With the new house 8 to 1 in favor of the measure, Taylor said, 23 senators would support the legislation, giving bonus proponents a safe margin in the senate over the number of needed to override a presidential veto. Taylor said that of 15 senators up for reelection who voted in September for the compensation bill, 13 were returned to the senate. Fifteen of 18 new senators he added, favored the proposal.

Adventures of The Twins

THE TWINS VISIT MARS

"NO," SAID THE SQUARE MAN. "WE'RE ALL DIFFERENT."

Way to Mars with the Twins to hunt for Mother Goose's lost broom. "Mars" is a star, a big red one, and you can see it most any night when the moon isn't too bright, or the clouds too thick, or the air too foggy. Well—twins where the Twins went. The first person they saw was a square man who stared at them in a most unamusing way. "Hello!" called Nick. "Is this Mars?" "Yes," answered the square man in a hoarse voice. "Well, we're hunting for Mother Goose's broom," Nick told him. "Did you see it?" "Once," answered the square man stiffly. "Was it lately?" asked Nancy. "Yes," answered the man. "Only about a hundred years ago. She swept a cobweb off my left eye-brow."

Siki's Life Story

I saw hard times in Massillon when the money the German dealer left me gave out. Often I was cold and hungry. I worked long hours washing dishes and drying them and getting little pay and not much to eat. Some of these Massillon restaurant and hotel bosses know how to get the work out of you. Then I had a piece of luck when an afterward to change my life, as the German dealer did. I met Paul Smith, a hotel manager at Massillon. He gave me lessons for nothing. He showed me how to build up strength, how to box and kick and punch. A lot of newspaper fellows have written that I have a jungle style of fighting, and that I am a sort of chimpanzee who has been taught to wear gloves. I was never in the jungle in my life. I haven't seen many chimpanzees and never saw any fight.

Every fighting man builds up his own way of hitting the other fellow and of trying to keep from being hit. Call it by what name you will, the whole game is to hit the other fellow and keep from getting badly hurt yourself. If I can bend and stoop in such a manner that all the other fellow can hit is my elbow or the top of my head, then my game is to hit the other fellow and keep from getting badly hurt yourself. I wasn't a bit scared. I may have been nervous, you know, but I was a fighter, as the Germans found out. Later that year in "Toulouse," I knocked out B. Nicolas in two rounds and beat Frank Roosa on points. I was beginning to get a rep. But it didn't bring much money.

Got Little Money
I used to fight for 50 or 60 francs. It seemed an awful lot of money for beating a man. Early in 1911 I had bad luck. I lost to Jean Aubrey in ten rounds on points. I beat Frank Roosa again on points in July. That was my last public fight for some years.

Things looked good. I was getting offers to fight other good men for better purses. I was getting stronger right along and learning from each man I fought. For one thing, I learned that the crouch I had been very useful. I would go in the ring, act nervous, shuffle, crouch and swing my arms wildly. Learned From Other Fellow
People laughed and the other fellow would think he had a frightened easy mark before him. Sometimes he would pull his best punch and hand it. I would go down for a count of six or seven. I was only a rest for me, time to think. I wanted to puzzle him the other fellow had and ended that he was now left myself. I rarely did it a second time. Once I learned his style, I made my own and knew how to go after him. I usually succeeded. Then came the war, and an end of boxing anywhere in France.

CAN HOPPE COME BACK?

While Hoppe, famous billiard player, is one of the most interesting figures in the sport world. Hoppe, a champion for 16 years, was defeated by young Jake Schaefer. It was one of the biggest upsets in the history of the game as Hoppe was a top-heavy favorite. While Schaefer is confident he will retain his title, Hoppe is highly anxious to once again be billed as the champion. He has been training faithfully for several months and should be at the top of his game when the championship tournament opens at New York, November 13. Hoppe is still a young man. For years he was known as the "Boy Wonder" of billiards. Hoppe was born October 11, 1887. Here are a few of the remarkable records held by Hoppe: 14-in. 304—Match at New York against George Henson, April, 1914. 18-2-in. 622—Against Louis Curo at Paris, March, 1911. 18-2-in. 305—Handicap tourney, New York, November, 1915. 18-2-in. 307—Against Jake Schaefer, St. Chicago, 1906.

Drug addiction, though of long standing in the West did not become a problem in western countries until after 1815.

M'CORMACK CONCERT

Audience of 4500 Delighted by Singer's Power at the Auditorium

It was the largest assembly yet seen at the Auditorium that greeted John McCormack last evening; and rarely has a more delighted audience sat under the spell of any great singer than that which hung upon his entrancing songs during his performance. Those who felt that his voice might have suffered from his recent attack of tonsillitis were disappointed of that idea in his very first number. On the contrary, his voice seems to have improved in tone and quality and in its wonderful mellowness since he sang in this city some ten or a dozen years ago. He then appeared at Keith's theatre which was much too small to accommodate those who wanted to hear him. With that experience in mind, the changes to the splendid Auditorium packed to the doors and with so many chairs on the stage, that there was barely room left for the artist and his accompanist, the change must have impressed even the famous singer, though accustomed as he is to singing in the grandest halls in the country. In every feature was the concert a wonderful success, a fact that must be gratifying to the Notre Dame Alumnus under whose auspices it was given. The vast audience that greeted Mr. McCormack at the Auditorium proves that the Lowell public does rise to great art when it has the opportunity and last night's concert was one of these rare occasions. This world famous tenor is singing with such magnificent artistry that not even the most severe critic can find a flaw in his rendition of any of his selections and his repertoire consists of the leading tenor roles in the Bohemian, "Faust," "Cavalleria Rusticana," "La Traviata," "Rigoletto," and many others in grand opera together with English, French and Italian art songs and the Irish folk songs, in which he is the greatest living interpreter.

The program, exclusive of the encores to which he liberally responded, was as follows:

- a—O Sleep, Why Dost Thou Leave Me (Soprano)..... Handel
- b—Endye the Sweet Elysian Groves (Alceste)..... Handel
- c—Hymn to the Sun..... Handel
- d—Rimsky-Korsakov: Kreutzer Variations..... Rimsky-Korsakov
- e—When You Are Old and Gray..... Frank Bridge
- f—Desolation..... Granville Dunstock
- g—To the Children..... Granville Dunstock
- h—Panis Angelicus..... Cesar Franck
- i—The Star..... James H. Rogers
- j—The Last Hour..... Walter Krammer
- k—On That It Were So..... Frank Bridge
- l—Thine Eyes Still Shined..... Edna Schneider

To those who heard McCormack for the first time the clearness, sweetness and power of his voice were simply a revelation. In the opening number by Handel, his rendition of "O Sleep, Why Dost Thou Leave Me" was simply marvellous. The number and "The Star" in the final group seemed to bring out most effectively the singer's wonderful power; but the touches of pathos and the heart throbs were most abundantly shown in his songs, "To the Children" and another of a similar strain given in response to a recall.

Being most familiar to the audience, his group of Irish songs won great applause. His rendition of "Moonlight" in the "Sally Night" and "The Star" of "Annapolis" was simply superb; but in response to encores after finishing this group, he sang that popular favorite, "Mother MacKenzie" with rare pathos and inimitable expression. Inasmuch as the gallery back of the stage was crowded, he faced that assembly while singing this selection. But the audience insisted on more, and finally, he came out and sang "The Last Rose of Summer." This is a very difficult selection as some of its notes are so high that few singers can do the song justice; but McCormack gave it with variations clear as the tones of the flageolet, while sustaining the highest notes with perfect ease and characteristic power.

In response to a recall after his second group of songs, he gave a very touching song and one full of pathos beginning with "I shall save one heart from breaking I shall not have lived in vain."

At the close of the last chapter of song, the audience was reluctant to leave without more, and after giving several farewell bows in which he brought forward his retiring accompanist, he sang "Thank God for the Garden." The words seemed to convey a tribute to the vast audience as he clearly enunciated "Thank God for sunshine, thank God for dew; thank God for flowers, thank God for you."

That closed the concert, and the vast audience realized as never before the charm of the spell and power that have made McCormack so popular and that bring him the well earned title of the world's greatest lyric tenor.

LOWELL THANKSGIVING DINNER FUND

Remember the children of the poor! Have you contributed your mite to the Lowell Thanksgiving dinner fund?

The warm weather that makes the November prognosticators look wise and solemnly shake their heads, isn't helping along the campaigning Salvation Army lasses on Lowell street corners very much. As a matter of fact it was stated by the lasses this morning that contributions were not coming in at all fast enough, and unless the people of Lowell began contributing coins to those kettles in a livelier manner, the work of the Army around Thanksgiving time may have to be extensively curtailed.

Three lasses stood by a similar number of kettles on three corners down town this morning. Pedestrians stopped once in a while to drop coins of small value into the slots in the kettle covers, but there was no rush to do so. The weather is so warm for this time of the year, that that may have something to do with it, Army officials say. At any rate, they feel that Lowell citizens ought to support the campaign a little better, and believe that before the end of the week contributions will come along more generously.

Army headquarters today received a small consignment of children's clothing as a result of the publicity given in this line of work through The Sun. The adjutant, Mark Arnold, and his helpmate, said that more clothing for poor children of the city could be used readily. Several cases need prompt attention and donations will be distributed before the end of the week.

Plans are being made for another series of rally meetings next Sunday in Army headquarters on Appleton street. The speakers and program will be announced shortly.

DANGEROUS CONDITION OF LOCAL BRIDGES

The residents of Lincoln street and vicinity are anxiously awaiting the time when the two bridges on that street will be repaired. The flooring of the railroad bridge is in very poor condition the planks in some places being quite loose, and the persons who traverse the bridge are fearful of a repetition of the accident which occurred sometime ago when a woman went through the planking and narrowly escaped death.

The bridge which crosses Hildesbrook, is also in a deplorable condition, the only support at one end being a narrow plank. Should anyone slip at this point, a possible drowning fatality might result. The citizens of the district are exceedingly anxious that some action be taken on repairing the dangerous spots.

CASES IN THE DISTRICT COURT

John Silva today told Judge Enright that on the evening of November 2, Joseph Perreire, a neighbor, whacked him twice in the face following a discussion in Silva's barn. Perreire was fined $100, but he refused to pay, and he was committed to the house of correction for two months for drunkenness. Simon Chaput received a like sentence for the same reason. His sentence was suspended and he was placed in the charge of the probation officer for six months with the stipulation that he make restitution for a window glass that he broke. Patrick Bordehan was sentenced to the house of correction for four months for drunkenness. Sentence was suspended for one year.

WAS REMOVED TO THE HOSPITAL

According to a report on the police blotter, a Francis J. Boice, aged 62, was brought into the police station this morning about 4:45 o'clock in a weakened condition. He was taken to the City street hospital in the police ambulance.

TEXTILE SCHOOL ATHLETIC COUNCIL

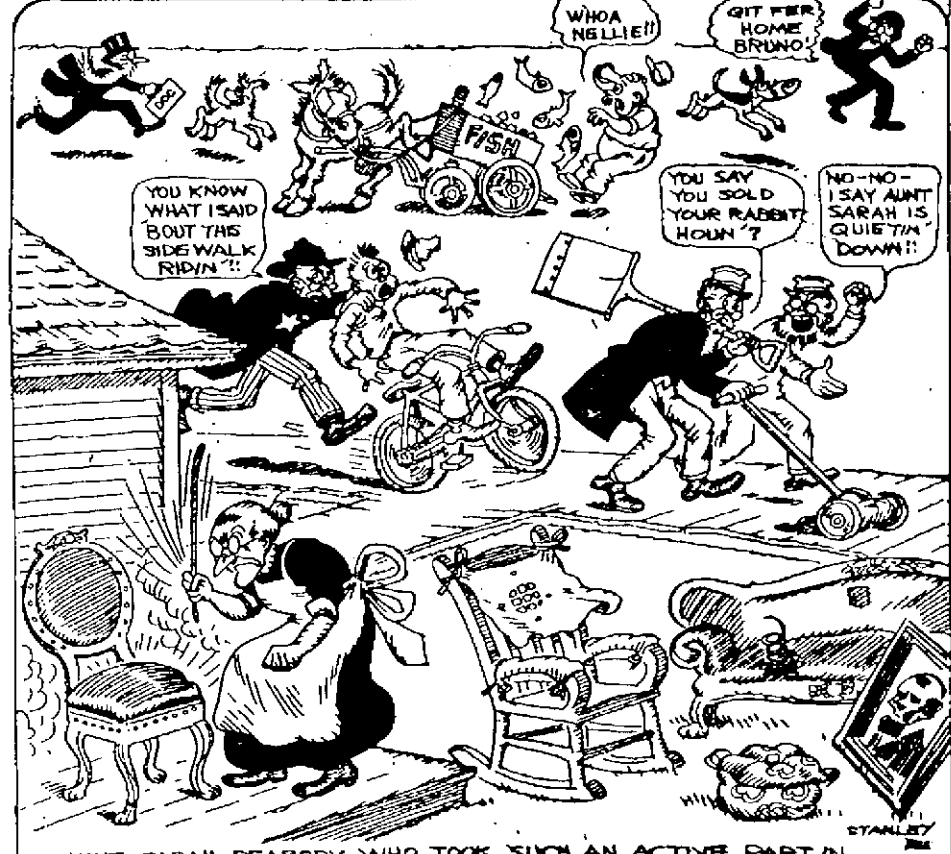

The Lowell Textile school athletic council met yesterday afternoon and elected the following officers for the remainder of the year: President, Robert Valentine, vice-president, Carl O. Smith, treasurer, M. A. Villeneuve, secretary, Guy Harmon. It was voted by the members of the council that have ball letters be awarded to the following players on last year's squad: R. Farwell, C. C. Farwell, Olson, Blanchard, Matthews, Mable, Reynolds, Keaven and Valentine.

A program by Mr. Boche, violinist, who played his numbers with fine effect and received a liberal share of the applause, was for the accompanist, Edwin Schneider, his work was recognized as that of a finished artist.

There were probably over 500 people at the concert and one of the things that pleased and surprised most of them was the ease with which this vast throng emerged from the auditorium at the concert. The entire audience was on the walks outside in five minutes after the artists left the platform, and there was no crowding, no jostling at any point. It is a great tribute to the beautiful building with the admirable conveniences of which the people of Lowell are only becoming acquainted.

TO QUESTION 50 WITNESSES

Somerset County Grand Jury to Hear Hall-Mills Case Witnesses on Monday

Mrs. Gibson to Testify She Was Not at Mrs. Russell's Home on Night of Murder

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Nov. 14.—The Somerset county grand jury is to be convened Monday to hear witnesses in the Hall-Mills murder case. Arrangements to call the inquisitors were perfected at a conference yesterday between Deputy Attorney General William A. Mott and Prosecutor Beckman of Somerset county. It was first decided to summon the jurors Thursday, but Prosecutor Beckman suggested the postponement until Monday because a new sheriff took office today, and he desired to acquaint the new official with the case.

More than 50 witnesses will be summoned for the hearing. It is possible Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, widow of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall, slain with his choir leader, Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt Mills, will be permitted to testify. She has requested this privilege and agreed to waive immunity. Officials indicated that Mrs. Nellie Russell, negress, who has contradicted the sworn witness account of Mrs. Jane Gibson, on which the prosecution depends largely, would not be recalled as a witness before the grand jury.

Detectives David and Mason said today that Mrs. Gibson was prepared to testify that she was not at the home of Mrs. Russell on the night of the double murder. The negress last week made an affidavit that Mrs. Gibson was at her house talking about a dog at the time Mrs. Gibson swore she witnessed the murders.

The detectives said Mrs. Gibson has been in the habit of keeping a sort of diary on a 10 by 4 calendar, and that, according to this diary, she talked with the negress about the dog on Sept. 12 and Sept. 13, as claimed by Mrs. Russell.

SCHOOL GIRLS AS JURORS

Acquit Man Charged With Violation of State Prohibition Act

AKRON, Ohio, Nov. 14.—Sixteen members of a local high school class in civics sat as a jury in police court and acquitted Rudolph Kallan, charged with violation of the state prohibition act. Judge A. F. O'Neil asked if they would like to act as jurors. All were eager to serve.

"There wasn't enough evidence to convict the man," the girls explained after the jury had returned its verdict. Judge O'Neil dismissed Kallan.

CITY'S CASH RECEIPTS UP TO NOVEMBER 1

Cash receipts for the city up to Nov. 1 and covering the first 10 months of this year, amount to $7,678,750.67, of which $3,400,000 is temporary loan money and approximately $3,250,000 is tax money.

Total receipts for 1921 were $10,751,052.21 and it is expected that the 1922 total will exceed this amount. For the sake of comparison, the receipts for 1920 are quoted, totalling $2,450,000, showing the great increase that has occurred in 20 years.

REMINISCENCE CO. DIVIDEND
NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The Reminiscence Typewriter Co., today declared a dividend of $3.50 a share on its first preferred stock and its first preferred series shares. The last previous payment on first preferred stock was made in April, 1921, when $1.75 was paid.

The word "dividend" originally was used to signify any sort of teacher.

PLAN B CHARTER TALKS NO. 3

Under Plan B the legislative powers of the city shall be vested in the city council of 15 members, one of whom shall be elected president. As has been previously stated, at the election to be held in December of this year, councilors-at-large shall be elected for two year terms and ward councilors for one year. As terms expire all councilors shall be elected for two years.

Unlike the provisions of the present charter, Plan B gives the council a direct check upon removals by the mayor by making it mandatory that the mayor cannot remove any department head without first obtaining the approval of a majority of the council. The council shall grant hearings to all officials removed and although Plan B or any one of its amendments does not say so, it is assumed an official removed could be reinstated by a two-thirds vote.

The present charter named the salary of the mayor at $5000 and provided a councilor should receive $300 a year. Under Plan B it is left with the council, not only to set the mayor's salary by ordinance, but also establish that of its members, the only limitation being that the salary of the mayor shall not be more than $5000 and the salary of a councilor shall not be more than $500. While it may not be probable, there is nothing to prevent a council under Plan B to establish the mayor's and the salaries of its own members as low as it wishes.

In many other respects a Plan B council will function exactly as at present. It will pass the annual budget and orders, votes and ordinances cannot become effective without its majority approval.

All amendments by the mayor, except that of the city solicitor, shall go to the council for confirmation, which shall be by a majority vote. Thus the council not only has a check on new officials, but it holds that same check on removals by the mayor.

The local army recruiting officers have removed their headquarters from the postoffice to the Spalding building in Central street, and the change has met with much better results as far as the making up of recruits is concerned. Good pay and special opportunities for advancement as cooks, carpenters, blacksmiths and saddlers. Since last Saturday, the following Lowell boys have enlisted: Milton B. Ryder, Henry B. MILLION DOLLAR ALCOHOL PLOT

Five Charged With Violation of Dry Act in Alleged Conspiracy Plead Guilty

Sentence Deferred as Judge Wishes to Study all Evidence in Case

CLEVELAND, Nov. 14.—Louis and Abraham Auerbach, brothers, and three others charged with violation of the Volstead act in an alleged million dollar alcohol conspiracy, entered pleas of guilty when arraigned in federal court here today as a jury was being empaneled to hear the case.

Sentence was deferred by the court, the judge stating he wished to study carefully all the evidence in the case before imposing sentence. In addition to the Auerbach brothers, owners of the "Million Dollar Hotel" located at 11001 Lorain street, Morris Moss, Morris Cohen and Abraham Rosenberg, also entered a plea of guilty to the nine counts of the joint indictment returned against the five men. Samuel Selker, also indicted, did not appear in court today.

Federal officials assert that Auerbach brothers procured alcohol on legal permits for the manufacture of hair tonic and diverted it into "bootleg" channels at a profit said to be a million dollars.

The conspiracy charge is two years' imprisonment and a fine of $10,000.

SNOW REMOVAL MEETING IN LAWRENCE

Many business men in Lowell and Lawrence favor the appropriation of money by the community to cover the expenses of removing heavy snows in the winter season from main highway transportation lines.

This was stated by several representatives of mercantile interests who yesterday attended a conference on snow removal problems, held at the headquarters of the Lawrence Chamber of Commerce. The Lowell chamber was represented by Secretary George F. Wells and Assistant Secretary Edward Gallagher.

Responding to a citation call from the officials of the Lawrence commercial body, representatives of business organizations from Haverhill, Methuen and Andover and representatives to meet with the Lowell and Lawrence delegates last evening.

There was an informal discussion on various matters pertaining to the problems of removing snow blockades from important streets and interconnecting main highways. It was felt that no city or town could afford to go into an active campaign and provide money enough to meet the average annual expenses of this kind of work. At the same time it was learned that no aid could be expected from the county, either, and of course the street railway lines have all they can do to keep their own roads open.

It was the unanimous sentiment of the meeting last night, that the only proper method to secure financial aid in order to maintain a satisfactory traffic throughout the winter months, would be to petition the legislature for annual financial aid, which would be more difficult to be rendered by the state setting aside a portion of its automobile registration receipts for the work to be performed.

CITY COUNCIL DRAWS TRAVERSE JURORS

After frantically endeavoring for more than two hours to secure a quorum of its membership last night, eight members of the city council finally gathered together round the table in the mayor's reception room while Councilor Frank K. Stearns drew the following three names of men to serve as traverse jurors at the superior court now sitting in Cambridge:

Michael Harrington, 47 Warrack street, operator.
Edwin F. Jones, 53 West Sixth st., dealer.

Percy Gullins, 197 Pawtucket street, manufacturer.

It was a special meeting called yesterday afternoon by President Gallagher for 8 p. m. At that hour only five councilors had arrived at city hall, but by 9 o'clock there were seven. Number Eight was more difficult to cure, however, and it was an hour later before he was rounded up. It was just 10 o'clock when the meeting convened, with Councilors Gallagher, Appleton, McFarland, Moriarty, Christian, Stearns, Chadwick and McMahon present. Councilor Gallagher named the chosen chairman and Mr. Stearns was designated to deliver into the confines of the jury box. Four minutes later the meeting adjourned.

LEGAL BOMBSHELL IN $1,000,000 SUIT

BURLINGTON, Vt., Nov. 14.—A legal bombshell was thrown into the proceedings in the Woodbury million dollar alienation suit this morning, by Judge Charles H. Darling, one of the attorneys for the defense, who announced that he had introduced for further testimony seeking to ascertain the wealth of Lorenzo E. Woodhouse on the ground that the defendant had made, and it should be governed by the financial standing of the less wealthy of the two defendants. He cited several precedents and asked the court to substantiate his objection.

So far in the case it has been found that the wealth of Mrs. Mary Woodhouse, the other of the two defendants, is not over $100,000, while it is reported that her husband's wealth runs into the millions.

WILL APPEAR IN LEADING ROLE

John B. Doyle and Timothy Flanagan, popular actor-singers of this city, will appear in leading roles in the musical comedy, "Kathleen" to be presented at the Opera House this Friday and Saturday under the auspices of the Girls' City club. Mr. Doyle has a tenor voice of exceptional range and never fails to charm his audience. As "Jiminy," the hero of the play, Mr. Doyle has opportunity to display his voice to the hilt. "Don't Forget" and "Kathleen" are two solos which will long be remembered. As clerk in the village store he is greatly molested and injured by "New Rattlington," a college friend, "Ned" is the villain and the part is well taken by Mr. Flanagan. "Sly Madder" and "Love-Light," songs by Mr. Flanagan, are especially written for a baritone. The music for the play was composed by Clayton Hotchkiss, head of the music department of Harvard University.

The hearse bore a large sign reading: "Kansas Industrial Court Wanted—Grave Diggers. Apply to Henry and Me."

Speeches at the meeting were confined largely to attacks on the industrial court and Governor Allen, and to eulogies over the election of Davis.

REGULATIONS COVERING COAL DELIVERY

A copy of the regulations covering the delivery of coal drawn up by James J. Phelan, distributor for Massachusetts, in order to insure delivery of anthracite to the general public during the acute shortage that now exists, has just been received by A. D. Ellis, emergency fuel distributor for Lowell.

To avoid the possibility of a customer placing an order for coal with several dealers, the latter are to deliver coal only to regular customers. Customers who have no regular dealers are to be referred to the local emergency fuel distributor.

No anthracite coal is to be delivered to hotels, clubs, apartment houses, office buildings, theatres or other places of amusement, factories or mercantile establishments. No customer is to receive coal when he has a supply sufficient for 30 days on hand. Coal deliveries to single customers should be more than a 30-day supply. No restrictions are placed on the delivery of bituminous coal, or on the delivery of backhoes and smaller sizes of anthracite, or on the burning of wood or fuel oil or the delivery of anne.

STRIKE AT B. & M. CAR SHOPS IS STILL ON

In a statement issued this morning by the officials of the Federated Crafts of the Boston & Maine carshops, it is declared that the strike at the Billerica carshops and the Lowell roundhouse is still on despite the fact that five of the strikers have deserted the ranks of their organization and have returned to work. One of the officials stated this morning that the return of the five men to the shops is not news, for three of them went back to the shops two weeks after the strike was on and the other two returned to their jobs during the second week in August. He said this announcement is being made to cut short certain rumors that are being spread through the city to the effect that the strike is off and that some of the men have returned to work.

The statement was issued as a result of a meeting of the executive board of the crafts, which was held last evening in Odd Fellows building, Middlesex street, and during which the strikers discussed the situation and the reports from various men who picked the shops day and night were received and the board was assured that only five of the regular employees of the plant are at work. At the close of the meeting the following bulletin relative to the situation in the carshops was issued:

"The money power has consolidated to fight organized labor. The existing transportation not known as the Cambridge street car shops, is over the widely expressed disapproval of the workers. The United States labor board has created under the said act, its personnel being non-elective and therefore undemocratic. This board is at first hand an experimental venture imposed upon the workers by the government.

"The decisions of said board have been in every instance directly against the interests of labor organization. They have laid down many favorable conditions. For two long years railroad shopmen have put up with this treatment, and the board has been in existence longer and on July 1, 1922, at 10 a. m., they laid down their tools to fight for their rights as emboldened by the strike in the same government. The fight is still on and will be fought out to a finish. Every working man, woman, boy or girl wants to realize the importance of the fight against 'Wall Street.' This is your fight as well as our fight."

Members of the federated crafts are urged not to forget the big mass meeting to be held in the city hall, evening in Colonial theatre, Middlesex street. The principal speaker will be General Organizer Schlager of the International Association of Machinists of Colorado. There will also be local speakers who will have something of interest to disclose.

CHANGE OF ECONOMIC POLICY JUSTIFIED

MOSCOW, Nov. 14. (By the Associated Press.)—The soviet government's change of economic policy, effected in the spring of 1921, has been justified in every way. Premier Lenin declared in an address before the congress of the third international, yesterday, that the soviet government had frankly admitted, the soviet was losing touch with the majority of the workers and virtually the entire peasantry was opposing the rapid transformation into communism.

There was no possibility now of peasant uprising. The peasants and the working class in the industrial centers, are well satisfied," he said.
